An English teacher asked her class to write an essay on what they'd do if they had a million dollars. Alec handed in a blank sheet of paper. "Alec!" yelled the teacher, "you've done nothing. Why?" "Because if I had a million dollars, that's exactly what I would do!"

A drunken man staggers into a Catholic church, sits down in a confessional box and says nothing. The priest is waiting and waiting. Finally, the bewildered priest coughs to attract attention, but still the man says nothing. The priest then knocks on the wall three times to attempt the man to speak. Finally, the drunk replies, "No use knockin' pal, there's no paper in this one either."

On opening his new store, a man received a bouquet of flowers. He became dismayed on reading the enclosed card, that it expressed "Deepest Sympathy". While puzzling over the message, his phone rang. It was the florist, apologizing for having sent the wrong card.

"Oh, it's alright," said the storekeeper. "I'm a businessman and I understand how these things can happen."

"But," added the florist; "I accidentally sent your card to a funeral party."

"Well, what did it say?" asked the storekeeper.

"Congratulations on your new location," was the reply.

Did you know?

- It is possible to lead a cow upstairs but not down.
- Intelligent people have more zinc than copper in their hair.
- Iceland consumes more Coca Cola per capita than any other nation
- A duck's quack doesn't echo & no one knows why.
- The reason firehouses have circular stairways is from the days of yore when the engines were pulled by horses. The horses were stabled on the ground floor & figured out how to walk up straight staircases.

- The monkey wrench is named after its inventor, a London blacksmith named Charles Moncke.

Horse Called

A cowboy sat quietly reading his morning paper one Sunday morning. Suddenly he was knocked almost senseless. His wife was stands behind him, holding a frying pan in her hand.

Cowboy: "What was that for?"

Wife: "Why do you have a piece of paper in your pocket with "Daisy" written on it?"

Cowboy: "Oh honey, don't you remember two weeks ago when I went to the horse races? Daisy was the name of the horse I bet on."

The wife was satisfied, and apologized for bonking him. Three days later he is again sitting reading the paper when once again he is bonked on the head.

Cowboy: "What was that for this time?"

Wife: "YOUR HORSE CALLED."

There are some people who think exercise means running up bills, jumping to conclusions, bending over backwards, stretching the truth, sidestepping responsibility, lying down on the job and pushing their luck.

A small boy was being sent to bed early, by his thoroughly harassed mother. He said to his older brother. "I can't work it out. Every time she gets tired, we have to take a nap."

"I hope that my visits aren't boring to your husband, Cindy dear?" said Aunt Claire.

"Oh no, indeed. However depressed he is when you come, He's always happy when you go."

A man falls headlong down a flight of stairs and as he's picking himself up and dusting himself off, a lady rushes over to him and says, "Did you miss a step?" "No," the man replies, "I hit everyone of them!"

The phone rang in the ward and the matron picked it up. The caller said, "I wonder if you can tell me how your patient, Mrs. Weal is?" And the matron said, "She is getting better all the time. In fact, she'll be ready to leave the hospital in a couple of days. Who is this calling?"

And the voice said, "This is Mrs. Weal.. The doctor won't tell me anything!"

Dear Dr. Shortstuff: My wife's birthday is coming up. She's had a so-so year. Not that affectionate at times, (if you get my drift), a few late dinners, and occasional flippancy. What should I give her? Dr. Shortstuff replies: A pink slip.

City Boy: Say, Dad, how many types of milk are there?

Father: Well, there's evaporated milk, buttermilk, malted milk, and- but why do you ask?
City Boy: Oh, I'm drawing a picture of a cow, and I wanted to know how many "spigots" to put on her.

A man was wheeling himself frantically down the hall of the hospital in his wheelchair, just before his operation. A nurse stopped him and asked, "What's the matter?" He said, "I heard the nurse say, "It's a very simple operation, don't worry, I'm sure it will turn out alright."
"She was just trying to comfort you, what's so frightening about that?"
"She wasn't talking to me. She was talking to the doctor!"

Dumb Criminals

How Well Do You Know the Dumb Criminal mind?

While robbing a gas station the attendant asks the robber for a favor, & the robber complied. The attendant at the Reno, Nevada gas station was nothing if not bold. "Remember," he told the man who was holding him up, "every victim is allowed one phone call". The robber agreed, and the attendant called the police. Before you could say, "reach out and touch someone", the Reno police were asking that dimwitted robber to do them a favor, "would you put your hands in these cuffs please?"

A couple was having some trouble, so they did the right thing and went to a marriage counselor. After a few visits, and a lot of questioning and listening, the counselor said that he had discovered the main problem.

He stood up, went over to the woman, asked her to stand, and gave her a big hug. He looked at the husband and said, "This is what your wife needs, at least once a day." The husband frowned, thought for a moment and said, "OK, what time do you want me to bring her back tomorrow?"
